

This is the Environmental Policy Statement of

A1 HYDRAULICS LTD

Established originally as an owner managed business in 1976, A1 Hydraulics has developed into one of the leading hydraulic equipment distributors in the region, supplying and servicing many industries sectors, from OEM through to end users.

Our experienced, technical team carry out repairs, servicing and replacement of all types of hydraulic equipment for customers locally, nationally and internationally.

We are committed to continual environmental improvement, the prevention of pollution and compliance with relevant environmental legislation.

We will systematically review and seek to minimise, where practicable, any adverse impacts caused by the introduction of new products, processes or activities.

It is our aim to:

- Minimise waste and use energy and resources efficiently.
- Reuse and recycle where practical and dispose of waste responsibly.
- Use biodegradable, pH neutral and CFC free cleaning agents where possible.
- Encourage our customers to segregate waste and reuse/recycle where practical.
- Raise awareness, encourage participation and educate our workforce in environmental issues and the environmental effects of their activities.

This Policy will be made available upon request to customers, suppliers, the local community, neighbours and other interested parties. It will be displayed internally on our notice board.

This Policy will be reviewed annually to ensure it remains current and reflects our business practices.
